Army Emergency Relief Campaign Kicks Off

Army Emergency Relief is a private nonprofit organization whose mission is to provide emergency financial assistance to active-duty, retired and Army Reserve and National Guard soldiers on continuous duty for more than 30 days. This includes dependents as well. AER provides interest-free loans and grants to cover emergency financial needs for food, rent and utilities and personal needs. AER cannot provide financial assistance for vacations, fines or to pay credit card bills. AER does not receive any government funds, so it relies on contributions from active-duty and retired soldiers and Army civilians. There is no dollar limit on AER assistance, and you do not have to be an AER contributor to receive help. All donations are tax-deductible. The Armywide annual AER fund campaign runs this year through May 15. The 6th Area Support Group hopes to raise more than $25,000. For info or to donate call Capt. Eric Tangeman at 421-2826/civ. 0711-729-2826 or visit www.aerhq.org.
